WELCOME

Dear HISPA Role Models and Friends,
¡Felicidades!

Welcome to the HISPA 2016 Three Kings Banquet! We are here tonight to thank you, to recognize and celebrate our accomplishments and to honor our role models and supporters.

Because of all of your efforts, sharing your stories and inspiring students to achieve their dreams, you are helping to transform lives and to transform America's future. Your commitment allows us to give the students we serve access to professional role models who ignite a spark—one that leads to higher education and rewarding careers.

In 2015, we had more successes than we can recount. Our network of volunteers has grown to more than 2,000. To date, HISPA has conducted 460 Role Model sessions and 17 Youth Conferences, including our seventh at Princeton and our very first at Columbia University. We have officially initiated our educational programming in Florida and have continued to develop partnerships with professional organizations such as NSHMBA and SHPE. Our growth and accomplishments were recognized at the national level by the White House Initiative on Educational Excellence for Hispanics, which named HISPA a "Bright Spot in Hispanic Education."

To date, we have united to bring our programming to over 6,000 students; with your support, we will bring that number to over 7,000 in 2016. The feedback from school administrators, teachers and students reflects the positive impact that role models have on so many lives. Students repeat again and again, "Thank you for giving me the motivation to work harder to succeed." Many who had not thought about higher education now not only believe that they can go to college but want to pursue advanced degrees.

We could not reach these milestones without the commitment of a network of people and organizations, including the many joining us here tonight. On behalf of the HISPA Board of Directors and our HISPA staff, I thank all of you for the wonderful gifts you share in support of our mission, and I salute those at our partner schools who have warmly welcomed the HISPA Role Model Program. Still, there are many schools we have not reached, many students who lack role models, and much more to be done. Tonight, I ask you to join me in recommitting to our journey to mobilize Latino professionals to step into classrooms so that we can continue to inspire students to dream big, pursue higher education and achieve their goals.

We all had someone who cared about us or we would not be here tonight. Let's pay it forward and show young Latinos that we care too. They need us—and our country needs them!

With deep gratitude,

Ivonne Díaz Claisse

January 14, 2016

Dear Friends:

On behalf of the State of New Jersey, we are pleased to extend greetings to all those gathered for the Hispanics Inspiring Students' Performance and Achievement's Three Kings Banquet.

For more than 30 years, HISPA has been dedicated to inspiring Hispanic students to achieve their educational and professional goals. Through its Role Model Program, HISPA provides students with a multitude of opportunities and abundant support enabling them to advance their education and pursue their dreams. Tonight's event is an excellent opportunity to not only reflect on previous years' success, but also to acknowledge those who contribute to this worthwhile initiative. We applaud HISPA and all those role models who are tirelessly committed to serving Hispanic youth and inspiring them to reach their full potential, and we commend all those who will carry these endeavors into the future.

Special recognition is in order for tonight's distinguished honorees: Mayra Caceres, the Verizon Foundation and UPS Crecer. We join with all those gathered in applauding these honorees for their dedication to HISPA's mission and their desire to make a difference in the lives of Hispanic youth and the community as a whole.

Best wishes for an enjoyable and memorable evening.

Sincerely,

Chris Christie
Governor

Mayra Caceres

Area Manager Global Network Planning

AT&T

Mayra is an engineer from Colombia, passionate about working with youth to inspire them to believe in themselves and to pursue their dreams. Mayra has a Bachelor of Science in Electronics Engineering from Universidad Distrital in Bogotá, Colombia and later moved to the US to pursue her master's degree. After obtaining a Master of Science in Electrical Engineering (MSEE) from Prairie View Texas A&M in 1997, she moved to New Jersey to join AT&T where she is currently working.

Mayra is an Area Manager of Global Network Planning at AT&T, responsible for a $10M budget to introduce new network functions and capabilities in the area of VoIP SIP Interconnect (Voice over IP Session Initiation Protocol), in support of services such as VoLTE, Rich Communications Services (RCS), and IP Teleconferencing services. Her 17-year career with AT&T includes working in a wide range of technologies, including virtualization and cloud computing, Mobility 4G/LTE, Optical Transport, Internet Protocol Television (IPTV), and switching/TDM. Prior to becoming an Area Manager, Mayra was a Principal Member of Technical Staff in AT&T Labs Research and Development department and worked on strategic projects for AT&T, such as the evolution of AT&T wireless network to LTE (4G) and VoLTE and expanding AT&T's optical transport network into Europe and Asia Pacific.

Mayra is an active member of AT&T's Employee Resource Groups and has held local and national leadership roles for AT&T's Hispanic Association, HACEMOS, and Women of AT&T, WOA. She is actively involved with HISPA, serving as an advisor and role model for our youth; she also served as HISPA's Youth Conference Director from 2007 to 2010. Other volunteer activities include teaching Sunday school at her church in Freehold, NJ, where she lives with her husband Michael and their daughter.

Marina Batista

Lead Applications Developer
UPS

The oldest of five siblings, Marina Batista was born and raised in the Dominican Republic and came to the US when she was 16 years old. She received an Information Systems Associate Degree from Passaic County Community College (PCCC) located in Paterson, NJ.

She joined the UPS workforce through the UPS internship program while attending PCCC. She continued her education and obtained a bachelor's degree in Computer Science from Rutgers University and the New Jersey Institute of Technology (NJIT) located in Newark, NJ. She has worked for UPS for 25 years where she has been involved in all levels of software development processes and systems development life cycles.

Today, she's responsible for leading Global Development Software Projects. She is also the chair of community connections for UPS' Latino Business Resource Group, Crecer, where she has the opportunity to focus on leading and/or participating in events which help improve the communities UPS serves. She is a HISPA mentor and has shared her story with 7th and 8th graders in NY and NJ. She is very grateful for being able to help make a difference in the future of Latino children and their families through HISPA and Crecer.

Supporting great causes: as much a part of UPS as our commitment to community.

Portfolio Manager
I.S. General & Administrative (G&A)
UPS

Juan began his UPS career in 1990 as an intern in the Metro L.A. District and has had numerous assignments of increasing responsibility across multiple business units in operations and industrial engineering. He was a key member of the team that developed the strategy for the Center of the Future and Package Flow Technology (PFT) initiatives, including design of the original PFT technical prototype.

Juan was promoted to Region Industrial Engineering (I.E.) manager in 2005 and served in Corporate, the Americas Region and Southeast Region. In 2010, he relocated to Atlanta and transferred to Information Services (I.S.) in the SCS Portfolio as an application manager responsible for the Distribution & Fulfillment and Customer Solutions groups.

Juan was promoted to SCS I.S. Portfolio Manager in 2011 and was named I.S. Operations Portfolio Manager in 2012.

Juan was named to his current position in 2015. He also has responsibility for the Customer Resource Management (CRM) group, as well as coordination of the activities for the UPS Asia-Pacific Region's technology group.

Juan serves as coordinator for the UPS Latino Business Resource Group (BRG), a company-sponsored diversity program. He is a senior member of the Institute of Industrial Engineers and the American Society for Quality and acts as a program evaluator for the National Accreditation Board of Engineering and Technology.

Juan holds a bachelor's in Industrial Engineering and a master's in Computer and Manufacturing Engineering from the University of Southern California. He also holds professional certificates in Logistics, Project Management, Business Administration, and I.T. Management.

Without a Heart, it's just a machine.

So in 1971, a little Heart built a different kind of airline—one that made sure everyone could fly.

Everyone has important places to go. So we invented low-fares to help them get there.

And with all the places we're going next, we'll always put you first, because our love of People is still our most powerful fuel.

Some say we do things differently.

We say, why would we do things any other way?
